NUMBER 31

Y. M. C. A. Representatives From All Southern California Colleges Will Meet At Pacific Palisades, Apr. 26-28

Y. M. C. A. men from all the universities, colleges, and junior colleges on the Pacific coast will join in a "Y" retreat at the Pacific Palisades, April 26, 27, 28. Bishop Paul Jones, one of the greatest lectures on the coast will be the main speaker during the retreat. Doctor Brookes of Pomona college will also speak. At this annual affair the "Y. M." organizations meet to talk over the different problems and possibilities of the "Y" and to promote friendship and general good feeling between the organizations.

Those who will probably attend from S. A. J. C. are Felix Garnsey, Delmer Brown, Bob Chapman, Paul Allen, David Cherry, George Tobias, Harry Van Gorkum, George Warner, Frank Miles, Bill Hewitt, Abbot Mason, Mr. Newcomer, and Dean Fisk.

Bishop Paul Jones has been secured to deliver two lectures on "Y" day, May '1. One lecture is to be given in assembly and the other at the dinner that evening. Bishop Paul Jones is a graduate of Yale University, and at present is Secretary of Fellowship of Reconciliation. He is a great thinker, and his lectures on international racial and industrial situations will be of vital interest to both men and women. During the morning, interviews and group meetings will be held.

"Master Salesman" Given At Convention

"The Master Salesman" a one act play, is to be given by a combined cast from Santa Ana junior college and high school tomorrow night at the Shrine convention in Anaheim. The cast includes Newel Vandermast, Ray Lindman, and Dora Robbins.

Mr. Phillips has been unable to direct the "Macbeth" practices for the last two weeks. Ray Lindman has been rehearsing particularly for lines, and will start practicing action when Mr. Phillips is able to meet with the cast again.

Assembly Program Under German Club

Music will be featured at today's assembly given under the auspices of the German club. The assembly will be held in the auditorium with Paul Mueller in charge.

Eva Ramsey will play two piano selections, "Serenade" and "Hark, Hark, the Lark". Banjo solos will be offered by Ed Tooles. He will play "If I had you" and "You're the Cream in My Coffee." Louis Romoff will play "Souvenir" and "The Old Refrain" on his violin. A steel guitar trio composed of Esther Bandick, Alyce Underwood and Ellen Heidecke of Orange will offer a group of Hawaiian numbers.

Clara Kate Owens and Emma Lehnhardt, members of the German class, will entertain with readings.

Sophs Thank Frosh

The sophomore class feels that they have more than been repaid in their efforts to welcome the Freshmen the first semester. The success of both the "Treasure Hunt" and the "Spring Hop" prove that the Freshmen have worked very hard to entertain us. We of the Sophomore class wish to express our sincerest thanks to the Freshmen for their efforts.—Edwin L. Gerhardt, Sophomore Class Pres.

Baxter Geeting Wins Oratorical Contest

LATE BULLETIN

Baxter Geeting was voted winner in the Junior College Oratorical Contest held last night in the auditorium in connection with the Public Schools Week Program.

Thelma Dugan and Baxter Geeting were the two speakers representing the Junior College.

The subject was "The Meaning of Education to the Student." Each speaker had five minutes to develop his topic.

A cup was awarded the winner by the judges, Cy. F. Yielding, Orson H. Hunter, and W. O. Patterson, Masters of the Santa Ana Masonic Lodges.

Astronomy Classes To Visit Mt. Wilson

May 24, the two astronomy classes will go to Mt. Wilson to visit the observatory. Objects which have been studied this year will be seen through the 100 inch telescope.

Those who can stay over night are encouraged to do so, as a more complete study can be given at night. The cost if one stays at the hotel will total approximately $4.50.

Students in the classes will take cars. However, if outsiders wish to go and take a car, they may do so. Ernest Stump and Roderick Smiley are in charge of transportation.

Three New Pledges Serving Bachelors

Three new pledges of the Brotherhood of Bachelors are in the midst of their month of initiation, according to Gerald Edwards, Grand Exalted. Ed Dews, Jack Sweetman, and Joe Warner are the prospective members.

At the last meeting the club voted to consider more new members in order to fill up the allowed quota. Several men were suggested to be voted upon next Monday night.

WORLD FAMOUS SINGER SCHEDULED TO APPEAR IN AUDITORIUM MAR. 3

People of Santa Ana are looking forward to the coming of Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw, who will appear in the high school Auditorium on May 3. Mme. Yaw is considered to be one of the most noted sopranos in America.

Mme. Yaw has established a school for homeless boys. The school is known as the "Lark Ellen School for Boys." Because of her unusually beautiful, clear voice, and her ability to reach extremely high notes, she has won the name "Lark Ellen".

Georgella Lay, pianist, appearing with Mme. Yaw, is an outstanding musician and has become very popular where ever she has been heard. Miss Lay is to give of her most brilliant numbers during the evening.

The program, which is being sponsored by the Julia Lathrop P. T. A., will be a fit opening for Santa Ana's music week, which begins May 5. Mrs. Roy Horton, chairman of the program has as her assistants, Mrs. Fred a Triplett, Mrs. Adelaide Lowe, and Mrs. Ivan MacFarlane.

Brother of Teacher Made Federal Judge

J. Lyles Glenn Jr., brother of Thomas Hall Glenn, head of the English department, and uncle of Lyles McNairy, was appointed last week by President Hoover to a federal district judgeship in South Carolina.

After completing his college work in South Carolina, J. Lyles Glenn was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford where he pursued a law course. War interrupted his studies, and before America entered the war, Mr. Glenn drove an ambulance in France and served on Belgium Food Relief under Mr. Hoover. It was here that he became personally acquainted with Herbert Hoover. He returned to America, and when America entered the war J. Lyles Glenn became Captain of the First Division of the American army. He was among the first officers to go over to France, where he distinguished himself, being decorated by three countries, France, Belgium, and United States. He also received the Croix de Guerre with Palm, the highest decoration given by France.

Mr. Glenn remained overseas one year after which he was sent back to America to instruct in the camp.

J. Lyles Glenn practiced law after the war ended, and was elected a district attorney in South Carolina. He held this position until his appointment last week to a Federal district judgeship.

Whittier College Bars All Social Dancing

Whittier, after a most comprehensive and thorough survey of the dancing question, the Joint Council has reached the conclusion that dancing shall not be recognized as a college function. This recommendation, along with another, that the college provide additional means of social recreation, was submitted to the administration.

Corona Del Mar is to be the setting of the A. W. S. party to be given Friday night.

There will be swimming and games before supper and music around the campfire afterwards. A program is arranged to be given during the supper hour.

All the girls in the college are invited to go, so a large crowd is expected. Girls who wish to go are urged to sign on the bulletin board.

Mary Ford is in charge of transportation and Lavinia Compton is in charge of making the fire.

Miss Miller, Miss Whiting, Miss Myers, Miss Leck, Mrs. Foote, Mrs. Tessmann, and Mrs. Northcross have been invited by the A. W. S. to attend the party.

"Fortune Teller" Cast To Begin Third Act

The cast of the operetta, "The Fortune Teller" by Victor Herbert to be given May 31, has been doing some excellent rehearsing. Work is to start on the second and third acts this week. Rehearsals show "The Fortune Teller" to be a hilarious comedy with an interesting plot. Excellent music will accompany the production.

The posters to advertise the operetta are to be made by the junior college art students under the supervision of Mrs. McKeown, art director.

Six Are Voted Into Beta Gamma Club

Six students have recently been voted into the Beta Gamma. To become a member of this organization is considered the greatest honor a student in Santa Ana junior college can receive. Only those who render the most unselfish work for the school are admitted.

Delmer Brown, Wylie Carlyle, Felix Garnsey, Dorothy Harman, Lavinia Compton, and Fred Humiston are the new members.

Student Center Work Reported Under Way

That work on the student center is actually being started was announced by Dean Fisk in a short report to the executive board at their weekly meeting Monday afternoon. The plans drawn up by Helen Richards, Eleanor Turner, and Ray Lindman last semester will be used.

The appointment of Reynold Keiser as tennis manager was accepted by the board. Eleanor Turner reported that work on the Algal was being delayed because several students and faculty members are failing to get their pictures taken. Miss Turner urges that they attend to this immediately.

Girls' Gym Classes Demonstration Today

To show parents and townspeople what the girls' physical education department of the high school and junior college are doing, a demonstration is being given this afternoon at 2:30.

The demonstration will show the work of the various classes, that given by the junior college including: Danish gymnastics and apparatus work by Mrs. Foote's class, clogging dancing by Mrs. Foote's class, and natural dancing by Miss Leck's class.

Life saving and diving by Mrs. Foote's advanced swimming classes will be one of the features of the program.

Purchase Two New Types For Annual

Due to the changing of hands of the photographer's studio, the pictures of the men's football team for the Algal were lost. Pictures of those team members now in school were taken over, but four have left and it was impossible to get their picture. Those men are Rust, Dugger, Harvey, and Manderscheid.

Two new types have been bought for this year's Algal. Group pictures are at the engravers; all copy is in; the editor is waiting for the pictures from the Mary Smart studio. It is desired that they be handed in immediately.

Deficiency Notices Sent Out Next Week

Deficiency notices will be sent out next week, according to Dean Fisk. Both parents and students will receive notices.

Students receiving lower than a D in any subject will receive the notices, which will be followed by a conference with Dean Fisk.

Sportsmanship

The time has arrived when a few words should be said about the lack of sportsmanship a few students are showing in their use of library books.

Largely because they have not the foresight nor take the trouble to reserve books for their future use, a number of students have acquired the practice of taking books that other students have reserved. This is not an occasional occurrence but happens every week.

The librarians are putting forth every effort to this practice, but students are eluding their watchfulness by taking both the books and their cards. What is more, a number of these books are never returned to the library.

A number of these occurrences are accidents due to carelessness—a book under the arm and a date to keep, with maybe the thought "oh well that's their misfortune." But the fact remains that these people are taking the privileges of others and with them the grades these students have worked for and deserved. Also, books not returned are a loss to the library and must be replaced, sometimes to the cost of new books.

Those who indulge in this practice are exhibiting poor sportsmanship and the worst of school spirit; so we appeal to the S. A. J. C. students that they may show more consideration for others in their use of library books and that they may hold up the high standards of sportsmanship that this college is striving for.—L. M. C.

College Comment

Fellow students, are we fed too much in college? Do we really have time to think? Are our minds becoming only a store-house? When a salesman wishes to "sell us", he bombards us with a volley of words, for he knows that he has a better chance to get us to buy the articles that we should do without, if our minds are to busy to think. Now, let us lay aside our psychology, our zoology, and our other sciences books for just a few minutes and think.

What is the basis of our modern civilization, anyhow? The American people spend millions of dollars annually for charity. Did we get this ideal from a theory such as "the survival of the fittest?" We are just now making a great cry for the outlawry of wars; for "peace upon earth, good will toward man." Is this great urge coming from a belief that the only way a society is made better is by the elimination of its weaker members.

We want to be real scientists don't we? Well, one of the characteristics of a true scientist is that he looks with mistrust upon every unproved statement. Here are two hypothesis which would be worth our verifying, if we are interested in true social science and in being real scientific: First, a false social foundation lowers the standards of civilization; and second, every ideal, every slogan, every farce that makes men better morally and raises the standards of civilization originated with the Bible. Clarence Darrow, the most noted atheist at the present time says, "What I believe is ruining the world." William Jennings Bryan quotes, "A lie may land it for a day on earth, But a truth that has lasted for a day Is good for a million more."

With these ideals in mind, I suggest that we perform the necessary scientific experiments to verify the above hypothesis before we each draw our own conclusion as to the foundation of our great American ideals and of our present day civilization—Lloyd Anderson.

Women! Women!

Women—Men—Woe-men. These women are great stuff. Yes, stuff. These girls are molten, in their own estimation, not in mine. They think they own a man, but feel hurt if he should take her for granted. They don't like men with looks or money, to hear them say it, but why are some men popular? They smoke all your fags, drink. They all love to dance with other men but they fight like—well they won't let us dance with the one's we want to. If you have a Ford they want a Rolls Royce. If you do have a good car they tell you they love you enough to ride in a "flivver". Take them out to eat and they say demurely "Cavinar".

Its Your Turn Now

The room was in a turmoil—legs and arms were propelling in weird directions—chairs were upside down—the table wavered on unsteady legs—voices rose in loud conglomerations.

It was ten o'clock in the morning, and the situation was a Sunday school class of young boys.

Tragically I gazed upon the uproar and then pinched myself to see if I had not gotten into Aimee's temple by mistake. But, no, I was where I belonged, but, oh, what a misfit. Talk about exasperations and apophony—I thought I'd have a set of dishes.

After resorting to force and many week-day expletives, I stuffed cotton in my ears, donned a pair of blinders, and began to try to teach at them, with an emphasis on try. However, slowly, and with many hard knocks, the lesson finally dragged through until the climax was reached. Their faces had the expression of angels, but it was only too well how pointed I knew their wings were.

When the closing bell rang at last and as I watched them depart, wiggling their ears, playing mumble peg, and the like—I gave a sigh of relief and limped for a bottle of Sloan's liniment.

Boy, it may be all in a life-time, again—until the next time!

Men! Men! Men!

Men—Men—Men — those Men—You can't live with 'em and you can't live without 'em, so what's a girl gonna do. They either make you feel like a million dollars, or else a penny, and you usually feel like a penny, for even when you feel like a million dollars, you know very well that it'll soon turn out to be counterfeit. Men—men—what pleasure do you ever get out of 'em? They rile you, two-time you, make you walk home, and then laugh at you. They let you do their home work, and then scowl if the result isn't perfect. They let you buy the gas, then crab if the car smokes. They play on your sympathies, and then feel hurt because you treat 'em nice. They rave about curly hair when your's is straight and vice-versa. They even grow beards—and we go with them.

What's the answer? Heck, don't I wish I knew!

Dr. E. M. Mills, President Emeritus Of National Rose Society, Interviewed

Rose Park Named For Mills; Lives In Santa Ana

By Terry Stephenson

Dr. E. M. Mills, now 80 years of age, president emeritus of the National Rose Society and America's best known judge of roses, leaned back in his big chair and closed his eyes.

"You have asked me the question that many others have asked when first meeting me."

As he drew his chair closer he smiled and looked up.

"What is my favorite rose? That is a very difficult question to answer, for there are so many beautiful roses, and there are more being developed every day. However, my first choice is the E. Gurney Hill."

Official Notices

Ten members of the faculty have not had their pictures taken according to a count taken at the Mary Smart studio Saturday, April 20. Those who have not had their picture taken are asked to fulfill the obligation by Friday, April 26, and those who had their pictures taken, but who have not returned the proofs are also asked to return their choice to Miss Smart by Thursday, April 25—Eleanor Turner, editor Algol.

The sophomore class will meet in the auditorium immediately after assembly.—Edwin Gerhardt, Pres.

Nine out of ten of the yellow roses fade to white after they have been picked for any length of time. The "Julia Potin," however, is one of the few yellow roses which does not fade. "Red Radiance" is a beautiful rose which is not susceptible to mildew. "Dame Edith Helen" is considered by experts to be the most fragrant of the roses.

Rose fanciers generally name their creations after some person, or relative. There is a rose which has been developed that bears the name of Dr. E. M. Mills.

The Syracuse Rose Society has named a beautiful rose park after Dr. Mills. In this park there are about 9,000 rose bushes, and 180 different kinds.

Dr. Mills lives at 2429 Poinsettia street, Santa Ana. His house is on a corner and is surrounded by a spacious lawn and flowers, including dozens of rose bushes. Dr. Mills is not only a flower fancier but is also a geologist and minister.

Many of the roses which Dr. Mills named as his favorites are famous for lustre and beauty wherever roses grow. The Etoile de Holland is Dr. Mill's second choice. It is a yellow rose, and unusually large. The Villa de Paris, another choice, has been adopted by Paris as the rose it loves best.

Soph-Frosh Dance Is Most Successful

"The Spring Hop" is over and only the memory of a very enjoyable affair is left. It was declared by all to be one of the most successful dances of the year.

Green and pink and yellow crepe decorations suspended from chandelier enhanced the "spring" effect. Programs in the prevailing colors will be kept as souvenirs.

Bob Thomson's orchestra furnished the music. Mary Hewitt entertained with several vocal solos. The newly discovered trio, Bill Jerome, Stanley Norton and Stewart McPherson, who sang several popular numbers, were very popular.

About sixty couples were present, including quite a few outsiders.

Marie Smith and Eleanor Metzgar presided over the cheery punch.

Cal. Tech Science Exhibition Attracts Several College Students From Here

Frosh Dance

"All success that the Spring Hop may have had is due to a great extent, to those freshmen who served on the various committees. And thus, in behalf of the Freshman class I would like to give my sincere thanks to the following students: Stewart McPherson, George Warner, Roberta Eley, Marcia Keeler, Esther Guyton, Lavinia Compton, Wylie Carlyle, Mildred Staples, Sherrill Spurgeon, Abbott Mason, Isabelle Siracusa, Fred Humiston, Floyd Anderson, Florence Caverly, Dorothy Diehl, Muriel Smith, Eleanor Metzgar, William Hewitt, Robert Chapman and Dorothy Harman.—Delmer Brown.

Biology, Chemistry, Physics Exhibits

A science exhibition, held at Cal Tech last Friday was attended by several junior college science students.

In the physics laboratory there were exhibits of liquid air and ozone of the cosmic ray that Professor Millikan of Cal Tech has been studying in the high Sierras.

The Gugenheim aeroplane laboratory is not completed yet, but there were exhibits of the wind tunnel in which a velocity of over two hundred miles an hour can be obtained for testing models.

Probably the most spectacular exhibit of the day was the high voltage laboratory. Arcs over twenty-five feet long were made to jump across gaps. The building was darkened and all that could be seen was a vivid spark.

Art and Music!

Mrs. McKeown, head of the art department announces that next year the Santa Ana junior college will be represented in the Pacific Coast Art Association Exhibit since a petition asking for that privilege presented by Mrs. McKeown was granted.

The fifth annual conference was held Thursday Friday and Saturday of last week in Los Angeles. Mrs. McKeown attended Thursday's roundtable discussions and the Futuristic banquet given in the evening at the Biltmore. She also attended programs on Saturday.

Four junior colleges were represented, State Teacher's colleges, universities, Dominican schools in the state of California, Oregon and Washington and according to Mrs. McKeown the exhibits were splendid and discussions decidedly worth while.

One of the most outstanding events of the musical season of the year in Los Angeles was the presentation in the Shrine Auditorium last Saturday of the Bach Mass in B Minor by the Los Angeles Oratorio Society, assisted by fifty selected members of the Philharmonic orchestra.

Card Party Planned By Spanish Members

The Spanish club is going to have a card party at the home of Mary Louise Wallace, 1226 South Ross St., on Thursday evening, May 2.

This party is to be given as a means of interesting the students and encouraging Spanish. The committee in charge of the party is Phillis Jamison, Mary Louise Wallace, Grace Haskell and Susannah Erbe.

Exchanges

The Occidental: An entirely new publication entitled the Sabre Tooth, is to make its appearance on the campus, and any one can contribute to it as it contains satire, parody, and one act plays.

California Daily Bruin: The sophomore class of the University held a skating party at the Glendale Drome, Saturday night from 10 to 12 o'clock.

California Daily Bruin: Women of the University voted unanimously to abolish "Hell Week", during which many rough and unwomanly actions are indulged in.

Donnas Baseball Season Getting Well Under Way; Coach Foote Announces Schedule; Outlook Good

To test their skill and obtain practice the girls' baseball teams took on the high school juniors and seniors Monday night. Although the J. C. teams took the small end of the score, they had two good practice games.

Next Monday the teams journey to Tustin where they hope to have better luck in their encounters with the Tustin high teams.

The sophomores game with the high school seniors resulted in a score of 6-12, with the J. C. team on the small end. Though, weaker than their opponents at batting, the sophomores had some fine cooperation in the field and obtained a good bit of practice from the game.

Barbara Goodrich was the heavy hitter for the J. C. team, hitting all four times at the bat and making two runs, Alice Prather made three hits of which two were runs. Jane Stewart and Catherine Jessup with one run each to their credit complete the J. C. scores.

The freshmen fell before the high school juniors with a score of 7-12. Watkins share scoring honors with Dorothy Harman and Marjorie Watkins share scoring honors with two runs each to their credit. Bobby Goodrich, Katherine Markel, and Lavinia Compton brought in one run apiece.

J. C. Baseball Game Date Again Changed

"TIMES" OFFERS CUP TO J. C. TENNIS MEN

Last week it was erroneously announced that the Santa Ana Register was offering the tennis cup for the junior college. It has since been learned that the Times is putting up the Jaycee cup while the Register is offering the cup for the high school tournament.

Incidentally Coach Patton states that interest is lacking in this tournament and that it is far from being completed. All men interested in tennis are urged to see Coach Patton at once.

Red Guyer Easily Outclasses U. S. C.

"Ramblin Red" Guyer, sensational S. A. J. C. sprinter was an easy winner in both dashes in the U. S. C. Frosh-Junior College all stars dual meet held at Compton last Saturday morning.

Guyer ran the hundred in 9.9 seconds. He was closely pressed by Treharne of Pasadena and Anderson of the Frosh. Red ramblled through the furlong in 22.3 seconds being an easy victor at that.

B. Beatty the only other Santa Anan in the meet was second in the javelin with a throw of 168 feet 6 inches.

The All-Stars relay team easily won from the Frosh. Guyer was anchor man for the winning team.

diamond, but due to the Fresno relays, in which Beatty and Tanaka are participating, Coach Clyde Cook has persuaded the Long Beach squad to play the game on Thursday, two days before schedule. The game was also shifted to the Long Beach diamond to accomodate the Vikings.

The Dons figure this to be one of if not the toughest game of the season and the Vikings are pre-game favorites, on account of having won a 7-1 decision from the Dons in a pre-season conflict.

In the previous game the Dons were minus four of their regulars which may account for the defeat. At any rate the Dons have a good chance to win the game Thursday, if Drysdale is given good suport.

Coach Clyde Cook's Swatsmiths Win First League Baseball Game; Drysdale Hurls Excellent Game

Bob Drysdale curved the Santa Ana J. C. baseball team to a victory in its first conference game when he turned back the fast Pasadena Swatsmiths, 4 to 0, at Pasadena Saturday afternoon.

Drysdale was invincible, allowing only three bingles, the first one not coming until the sixth inning.

"Bomo" Koral, Don second baseman put the game on skids when he poled out a long home run to left field with one on in the first inning. Aside from this "Bomo" also got another hit and drew two walks.

The Dons fielded faultlessly behind Drysdale. Beatty and Coral coming up and handling some fine plays.

Winners

... in a beauty contest
... in a debate
... in a literary competition
... and other winners are usually picked by judges.

But one old judge picks you for a winner or—. That judge is Father Time and he's in no hurry.

Students that drink a quart of our milk a day don't fool themselves.
